

Tacoma, WA | November 2021 – TagMaster North America, Inc. (TMNA), a leading provider for Intelligent Identification and Mobility Solutions in the U.S., announces the successful partnership with Titan Security Group for the implementation of its License Plate Recognition (LPR) cameras at the Riverway in Rosemont, Chicago IL.

Riverway in Rosemont is comprised of a large office complex with multiple entries and exits and a massive existing user database. The client wanted to improve the guest experience while upgrading the security and efficiency for vehicle access control for their users. The TagMaster NA's cutting-edge CT-45 LPR Camera was the perfect solution to provide increased throughput, convenience, and smooth operation at Riverway Rosemont complex. The highly accurate LPR solution was installed in all ten lanes and provided ease of integration with their existing access control system.

John Proutsos, project manager for Titan Security Group, expressed his thoughts on the collaboration, “Working with TagMaster for the first time was a good experience. They understood our needs and provided well thought out options for the system.”

The solution was to deploy TMNA's CT-45 powerful All-In-One LPR system which avoids the need for additional infrastructure. Titan Security Group only needed to update their parking database with driver's license plate information to instantly provide faster, more convenient access. Using the CT-45 LPR Cameras built-in Wiegand interface, the cameras communication with the database seamlessly integrated into the existing access control software in use.

The result is a modernized access control system with the capability to read the original prox cards or the faster, more secure entry via License Plate Recognition.

Ali Khaksar, President of TMNA shared his excitement for this project, “We are very pleased to have been selected by Titan to partner on this project and we're very satisfied with the improvements we're able to provide for the hundreds of daily parkers at Riverway in Rosemont, IL.”

Titan Security Group is a leading Chicago-based and privately held Midwest security solutions provider that delivers results for our clients through flexible, customized security solutions, and superior customer service. Our approach combines traditional security staffing with electronic security systems to provide integrated and efficient, customized security solutions from a single source. To learn more about Titan's service offerings, visit <https://titan-security.com> or contact a Titan representative at 312.902.3400.

TagMaster North America, Inc. is a leading provider of Identification Solutions for Automated Vehicle Identification (AVI) solutions. Offering dual platforms of radio frequency identification (RFID) and license plate recognition (LPR) technology they address a wide variety of challenges in AVI, ground transportation, and access control. Our diverse family of readers, tags, cameras, accessories, and software solutions offer maximum adaptability and versatility. For more information on TagMaster products, support, and services, visit www.TagMasterNA.com or contact us at sales@TagMasterNA.com | P: 866-615-5299